

I do not agree with the telemarketers calling at home to push there business half of the telemarkets that do call are Rude and Ignorate and they call during dinner time. Half of the time these are business that no one in the house hold has dealt with before and there selling something that one we don't want and two we don't need. Most of the time these business that do call are Scams. I hope that this Law of Do Not Call stays in force for a very long time and other states start inforcing it to. It has stopped a lot of harrasing calls for unwanted business and has protected people from getting con into a Scam.
